Summary:

Our marketing team is looking for a new creative Digital Graphic Designer to join our band. We have a lot of content, we have a lot of data, we have a lot of demand for both. We need some help making it all look great.

Working directly with our current creative specialist, Laura Mae Barboza, our new Digital Graphic Designer will help us with everything from social media graphics and digital advertisements to video editing and PowerPoint data visualizations.

Basically, if a project needs to fit into the visual identity of Sentec within the digital space, this person will be working on it. The marketing team does almost all of our work in-house: we expand our presence through social media graphics, educate clinicians with the use of Newsletters and PowerPoint presentations and communicate complex topics using data visualization. We cut video and trim audio, create custom iconography and explore new ways to visually leverage our library of clinical evidence.

This is a hybrid WFH position, with three days in-office at our Lincoln, RI headquarters (right off the highway, conveniently located near really, really good ice cream, coffee, sushi and falafel).

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Digital design and development to support campaigns: partner with the content writers, product-experts, and vertical stakeholders to develop creative materials that support Sentec’s campaigns.
- Sales tool and presentation development: Work with sales leaders, field specialists, and marketing content team to create best-in-class sales tools and presentations.
- Top applicants will have a demonstrated ability to turn high-concept language and number-rich data into effective and engaging visuals.
